

Feed the Future: Agriculture & Nutrition

Project Title	Feed the Future: Agriculture & Nutrition
Project Summary	Explore the intersection of gender integration, civil society engagement, and local ownership in agriculture and nutrition projects
Country	United States
Agency	Agency for International Development
DoS Office	N/A
Post	N/A
Section	N/A
Number of Interns	6

Project Description

The eIntern will assist the Bureau for Food Security's Country Strategy & Implementation Division (CSI) in producing materials and conducting research for the various projects. The eIntern will develop/review existing project handouts, fact sheets, toolkits, and infographics to highlight lessons learned such as how we are engaging civil society in agriculture and nutrition projects. The intern may also be requested to conduct research and analyze issues on a variety of topics such as country ownership, civil society engagement, sustainability, and gender integration. This is a great opportunity for someone with an interest in gaining experience in international development, specifically the nutrition, food security, and agriculture sectors.

Desired Skills Interests

Skill

Editing

MS Office

Proofreading

Storytelling

Writing

Infographics

Research and analytical abilities

Creativity

---

Online Communications

---

Ability to work independently

---

Ability to learn quickly

---

Additional Information

USAID's Bureau for Food Security (BFS) leads Feed the Future (FTF), the U.S. Government's global hunger and food security initiative. FTF increases agricultural productivity, improves the nutritional status of the poor, invests in long-term agricultural research, and strengthens the capacity of government, civil society and private sector partners, bolstering resilience and sustainability. For more information, please visit <https://www.feedthefuture.gov/>

Language Requirements

None