Project Description

This is part data dive, part image collections and part story telling. We are looking for a VSFS who can help pull together information from a variety of sources to help us document the relationship between the US Embassy in Bogota and dozens of partners throughout Colombia who run programs supported by the embassy that range from English language learning to building civil society to improving opportunities for the Afro Caribbean communities. Final product will include outputs ranging from .xls spreadsheet to a full photo spread of images to stories and anecdotes from some of the participants in the programs.
