Mentor and Teach Prospective Students About the Admission Process to U.S. Colleges and Universities

Project Title	Mentor and Teach Prospective Students About the Admission Process to U.S. Colleges and Universities
Project Summary	Gain international experience and develop cross-cultural communication skills by assisting prospective students from Tajikistan to achieve their goals of studying in U.S. universities. Develop your leadership, public speaking, research, and presentational skills by sharing U.S Culture and Life
Country	Tajikistan

Project Description

This internship is suitable for students who are passionate about working with a dynamic group of high school students who are highly motivated to apply and study in U.S. universities and colleges.

The Intern will gain cross-cultural communication, organizational and tutoring skills by working and engaging with 30 students who are part of the country-wide College Prep Club (CPC) program. Alongside the EducationUSA Adviser, the intern is expected to help plan and teach 8 - 10 hours per month courses on U.S. university admission process, writing, and soft skills development to 30 students of the College Prep Club Program. The curriculum will be shared with the intern in advance so he/she can plan accordingly. The intern is expected to communicate with CPC students by giving them feedback on assignments and leading monthly discussion clubs.

The intern will develop his/her presentation, public speaking, and research skills by leading monthly presentations and workshops related to significant dates/events/lifestyle in the USA.
Moreover, the intern will gain international working experience by working with adviser and students from Tajikistan.

EducationUSA is a U.S. Department of State network of advising centers in over 175 countries. Advising center in Tajikistan provides prospective applicants to U.S. colleges and universities with accurate, comprehensive, and timely information on opportunities to experience U.S. higher education. Interns selected for the project will work under the supervision of EducationUSA Adviser.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Analytical writing
Editing and proofreading
Educational design
Research

Additional Information

To learn more about EducationUSA Tajikistan, check our Facebook and Instagram page @EducationUSA Tajikistan.
Working with EducationUSA Tajikistan will give you more than just development of your skills. You will receive life-changing experience because you will be immersed in a world, which is on another side of the planet.

Language Requirements

None