Project Title	Help USAID Europe & Eurasia convey complex, urgent development programming through digital assets: i
Project Summary	USAID programming in Europe and Eurasia is complex. Help design digital assets delivering unique messages to USAID target audiences (domestic and international) on topics including cyber security, energy independence, and malign foreign influence.
Country	United States

Project Description

Design infographics, pictograms, and other digital assets and repackage existing content into video to help USAID Europe & Eurasia deliver targeted messages to domestic and international audiences. The Intern will work closely with technical specialists and the Bureau's communications team to translate complex programs into easily understood communications products that distill the nature of development challenges in the field and USAID's impact in helping partner countries overcome them. Experience with Adobe Creative Suite or similar preferred.
